QUASIOUS CONSTRUCTION BEGINS RCS EMPOWERS PROJECT

SHEBOYGAN, WISCONSIN - NOVEMBER 2, 2009: Quasius Construction, Inc., a construction services company, recently began construction of a major renovation for RCS Empowers, Inc. The renovation of a former Plastics Engineering manufacturing facility, located at 1607 Geele Avenue, will relocate RCS's packaging operations adjacent to its north plant location in Sheboygan. As the design/builder for the project Quasius Construction has provided the following services: site analysis, existing facility analysis, space programming, conceptual design, budgeting, and construction management. Throughout project development Quasius identified cost saving opportunities and ensure the project's tight budget and schedule were on target. The renovation updates both the building envelope and mechanical systems to improve both energy efficiency and the building environment for its occupants.

Quasius Construction is a construction services firm specializing in innovative construction solutions for commercial, institutional, and industrial facilities since 1891.
